Opening the doors on history

Inside the doors of the Guyra Museum, lay the secrets of our past. Built in 1909 as the first home of Guyra Shire Council, the building has housed a collection of local history for nearly thirty years.

However limited opening times and lack of volunteers has limited access to the general public and visitors in recent times.

That is set to change with a push to reinvigorate and relaunch the museum as a tourist attraction.

In a scoping study commissioned by the Guyra and District Historical Society, Heritage Advisor Graham Wilson OAM identified the value of the collection saying it had potential to attract both researchers and visitors to the community.

“The Guyra Museum has an amazing collection of historic artifacts and photographs from many areas of historic interest including local government, agriculture, court of petty sessions, community organizations, education, domestic life and employment on farms,” Mr Wilson said.

Historical Society members Aimee Hutton and Dot Vickery in the original Council Chambers

“There are a number of rare items within the museum including furniture and fittings from the Shire Chambers and the former Guyra Court House.”

Mr Wilson documented a number of extremely rare items including barbed wire collections and shearing hand-pieces, as well as domestic appliances including a Zwar patent vacuum washing machine dating from about 1880 and a diverse collection of children’s toys dating from the early 1900s.

Ebor Sportsground upgrades

Ebor Community Group at the new Sportsground facilities

Upgrades to the Ebor Sportsground have been completed thanks to funding from Armidale Regional Council and the generous support of the local community.

In 2016, the Ebor Community Group was successful in their application to the Stronger Communities Fund - a one off grant allocation given to new councils by the NSW State Government.

Council Administrator Dr Ian Tiley said that the funding enabled the Ebor community to upgrade facilities at the Sportsground.

"The Ebor Sportsground and its facilities are in frequent use by the community and visitors and upgrades were needed," Dr Tiley said.

A new two booth toilet unit with disabled access is now complete and operational.

Volunteers from the Ebor Community Group, under the guidance of Bryson Wade, undertook the preparation of the site which included approximately 100 metres of trenching for electrical and plumbing installations, unloading and siting of the water tank, delivery and positioning of the toilet module followed by the construction roof component and the connection of services and the final cleanup.

"Volunteers devoted over 200 hours of labour and donated their own heavy equipment and small tools to enable the project to be completed," Dr Tiley said.

The project was also assisted by Mr Alan Miller and other members of the Ebor Sportsground Trust Committee who allowed the toilet unit to be connected into their existing septic and absorption trench system, and allowed rain water to be captured and diverted from a portion of the existing building to the new facility's rain water tank.

Elections an opportunity to build on achievements

I believe the local government elections on the 9th September are an opportunity to build on the achievements we have seen through the Administration and make a successful merged Council.

I am standing because I've seen that working with a determined, co-operative team a lot can be achieved for my community. As part of the Guyra and District Chamber of Commerce and working with the Administrator and Armidale Chamber of Commerce, we identified a number of 'must do' projects for our town and region. Many of these had been proposed before, but didn't move forward because of lack of funding and weak co-ordination between Councils.

We said to the Administrator, investing in water security would enable expansion of the glasshouse horticulture industry benefiting both Guyra and Armidale. That project is now moving to the design and costing stage. We are in a stronger position because of the greater planning and regional development skills within the merged Council giving us more clout to ask for State government support when necessary.

I believe there are many more economic opportunities such as this and I am determined to keep up the momentum in the new Armidale Regional Council.

Mr Wilson has also recommended that photographs and other documents that are currently housed at the museum should be digitized and the originals placed in a local history collection within the library.

“This would allow family history research by computer,” Mr Wilson said. “With the extensive range and diversity of artifacts, research projects could be undertaken allowing a greater understanding of early life in Guyra and life on the surrounding farms.”

Armidale Regional Council last week approved a grant of $15,000 to refurbish the museum with the aim to reopen to the public on a regular basis.

They have also committed $10,000 for the creation of a Research and Study room within the Guyra library.

Plans are now in place to begin a spruce up and reorganization of the museum’s collection. Once work has been completed, they will throw open the doors to the general public.

Historical Society secretary Dorothy Lockyer said that they hope to open in time for the Trout Festival which is being held over the October long weekend.

“We haven’t had regular opening hours over the last few years, but we have been working behind the scenes towards making it possible,” she said.

“School and tour groups have continued to visit the museum by appointment and they are always intrigued to see what we have.”

“Now that we have had a number of new volunteers put their hands up to staff the museum we hope to be able to open every weekend as well as Wednesday.”

The Guyra Shire Council Chambers (above) built in 1909. The premises were extended in 1954. In 1981 the council moved into new premises. The building was handed over to the Historical Society in 1988 to use as a Museum

Community invited to tour Council facilities

The whole community is invited to tour Armidale Regional Council facilities as part of celebrations for Local Government Week 2017.

NSW Local Government Week will be held this year between 31 July and 6 August 2017. To mark the occasion, Council is inviting the community to tour some of the region’s major service facilities.

A tour of facilities in Guyra will be held on Tuesday 1 August between 10am and 12:30pm. It will include the Water Treatment Plant, Sewage Treatment Plant and the new Kolara Project.

Tours of Armidale facilities will be on Wednesday 2 August between 10am and 12:30pm and then between 1pm and 3:30pm. The Armidale tour will take in the award winning Armidale Waste Management Centre, Waste Water Treatment Plant & Reuse Farm, Water Treatment Plant and Armidale Regional Airport.

The tour is free and bookings are essential. Contact Armidale Regional Council on 1300 136 833 to book your place on the bus or email: council@armidale.nsw.gov.au

Countdown to election begins

The first elections for Armidale Regional Council (ARC) will be held on Saturday September 9th.

ARC was formed in May 2016 following the amalgamation of Armidale Dumaresq and Guyra Shire Councils.

An elector information campaign has begun to support the elections and voters are being urged to check and update their enrolment details, or enrol to vote for the first time.

Moves to absorb Tingha into Inverell Shire Council have not yet been approved by the Minister for Local Government, which means that Tingha residents will be required to vote in the election.

There are 11 positions to be filled on the new council. There have already been a significant number of people indicating that they will be standing at the election and both the ALP and Greens have endorsed candidates.

So far there are only two residents of the former Guyra Shire to put their hand up.

Former Deputy Mayor of Guyra Shire Simon Murray and Guyra Chamber of Commerce President Aileen MacDonald have both indicated that they will be standing at the election.

Nominations for councillors open on Monday, 31 July. Candidates will then have until noon on Wednesday, 9 August to nominate.

You can check your enrolment details at www.votensw.info or call 1300 135 736.

Weekly Wool Market Report

July 14th - All things being equal the wool market has done exceptionally well to head into the annual three week recess on a fairly solid note. Rostered quantities on offer for the first two weeks of this season have been 22% or almost 17,000 bales greater than the corresponding period last year. Whilst there was little change in the broad based indicators the Medium Merino types along with Merino Cardings came under some downward pressure while the Superfine Merino and Cross-bred types managed some small gains. 42,900 bales were sold nationally for the week with a passed in rate of 7.7%. Major buyers included Techwool, PJ Morris and Seatech with a good depth of buying interest supporting the top three. Forward market trading this week was almost exclusively concentrated in September at a level around 30 cents under the current physical. This is the highest level in over 25 years that the market has entered the July recess on and with buyers set to visit their overseas customers over the next few weeks there is no doubt that "price" will be the focal point of discussion. At this stage there are no early estimates for the first sale back after the recess but the corresponding sale last season offered in excess of 50,000 bales. This report will recommence on the 11th of August.

Quality Assurance important at Bald Blair

Principal of Bald Blair Angus Stud Sam White says that they try to give clients as much information as they can to give them confidence that any bull from Bald Blair will help them produce more profitable cattle.

Bald Blair will have a draft of 70 rising two year olds and 10 yearling bulls available for sale at their annual on property bull sale at 1pm on Tuesday, 1st August 2017. This will be the 45th annual on property bull sale at Bald Blair."

"Our genetics are continually proven in our large commercial herd, with our fertility, growth and carcass characteristics demonstrated in the steers we send to Rangers Valley feedlot," Sam said.

"This year's sale team will have sons of Sydgen Black Pearl, who I inspected with Dick Whale in 2016, VAR Reserve, Ayrvale General G18, Ayrvale Bartel E7, SAV Thunderbird, Bald Blair David G105, and

Sam White with some of his sale bulls

Bald Blair Right Answer J94, and yearling bulls by sires such as G A R Prophet."

"I am happy to show potential buyers around the bulls at any time in the lead up to the sale. We will have bulls in the yards on Sunday, 30th July, while we are paint branding lot numbers on them and will have lunch and refreshments available from 10am until 2pm."

"All two-year-old bulls offered for sale have undergone reproductive physical examination and a semen test by Dr Leisa Brown, of Guyra District Veterinary Services. The semen test involved Crush Side Examination for Motility and Specialist Laboratory Examination for Morphology as prescribed by the Australian Cattle Veterinarians Association. All yearling bulls will also undergo a physical examination and semen test. The results will be printed in the bull sale catalogue."

"All Bulls have been assessed for Structural Soundness by Dick Whale of IBMS. Bald Blair has been part of the NJDMAP for the last few years. As part of the ongoing development of our on farm BioSecurity Plan we will continue the rigorous testing as in the past, to ensure our herd remains clear of Johnes Disease."

The catalogue is up on their website, and the printed catalogue will be posted to previous clients. If you would like a printed catalogue, please email your postal address to bald-blair@bigpond.com.

To arrange an inspection prior to sale contact Sam on 0438 792 140 to arrange a suitable time to have a look around. Bald Blair is located 10kms east of Guyra, on the Guyra Ebor Road.

The sale will be interfaced with AuctionsPlus, including a live stream.

Guyra Sheep & Lamb Sale Market Report

July 12th - There were similar numbers penned with 1,330 lambs and 300 grown sheep. Numbers of quality lambs were limited, resulting in a marked rise in price for those classes. There weren't many restocker types available and sheep numbers were in very short supply. The regular buyers attended. Competition was good for all lamb grades with prices for trade up $16, heavy lambs seeing a dearer trend up to $17 on last sale and extra heavy lambs up to $23 dearer. Numbers played a major part. Limited grown sheep numbers saw the market firm to slightly dearer.

Trade lambs	$122 to $140
Heavy lambs	$125 to $175
Ex Hvy lambs	$160 to $185

Tourism topics -Local and regional Geology

Community Noticeboard

The landforms throughout Australia's New England, the hills, the valleys, flood-plains, streams or plateaux, speak silently to many of us. Many have heard the call to produce strong stock and/or award winning fibres. Some have tracked down special camping, hiking or fishin' spots, while others have discovered peaceful and colourful locations to paint or photograph.

Overlooking Mt Duval and Armidale from Black Mountain.

A good few have found it hard to resist the noisy temptation to search for gold, gemstones, artefacts or fossils. One thing's for sure, the echoing attractions continue to be heard.

Geologists (locally and overseas), know this district as the Southern Portion of the New England Fold Belt. These ancient lands with subduction zones, uplift and magma intrusion, pegmatites, mudstones, gravels and conglomerates, plus numerous mid-Tertiary lava flows have created one of the greatest varieties of gemstones and precious metals to be found in any one location anywhere on Earth.

Evidence of extinct marine, freshwater and terrestrial ecosystems within Tropical or Alpine conditions, can be rediscovered locked within the landscape as fossils, as well.

The many lapidary clubs, festivals and humble rock hounds highlight this magical providence, inseparable from historical stories found nowhere else but here.

Many of the small and larger settlements are partly the result of tonnes of Gold, Tin, Antimony and Molybdenite found locally. From the 1860's, (possibly earlier in some places), after leading geologists from Europe sampled some local 'dirt', the fever hit, the rush was on and the flood gates burst open as thousands of Europeans, Asians and seasoned cowboys from America's Wild West kicked up the dust from the Nundle to Tenterfield latitudes. Yee Haa, the Wild East exploded!!

As the sudden and multi-cultural populations erected their tent villages upon the fields of plenty and chased their cup o' gold, they had to suddenly adjust to red-hot summers, evergreen eucalyptus forests with huge rodent like and pouched mammals, a confused but highly sophisticated native people and the sudden lack of hygiene, law and order plus other age-old traditions or cultural activities including Religious practices. This lack of structure was a shock to many while others enjoyed the naughty misconduct. Droughts, floods and blizzards would have suddenly appeared as well.

As chemical free pastoralism, (including dairies) expanded and mining fevers spread, Diamond, Sapphire, Topaz and Beryl complimented Copper, Silver and Lead deposits and the list has continued to grow, ticking all boxes in Moth's scale of mineral hardness from 10 to 1 plus all seven natural, mineral crystal structures can be found.

As might be expected, it's an honest call, to refer to this district as a fair template of Australia's European settlement from the gold rush era and associated developments with Museums, Visitor centres, Architecture and fading Cemeteries supporting this unique, Natural and Historic location. The engineering feat of building Australia's highest rail lines, (now disused or not completed), is visible and speaks volumes.

As the warm bonds of love and loyalty between man and beast extinguished the flames of despair and delivered their cargo of people and supplies to and from the North, South, East and the West, the landmarks of Chandler's Peak or Mount Duval, Mt Ben Lomond, Black Mountain or Georges Mountain would have been a welcome sight and sound for all the weary travellers. The lush green pastures and thirst quenching lagoons, the cool and energising, vibrant oasis of the Guyra Plateau, right up on top of the Great Dividing Range was awaiting them, and continues to do so.

The Guyra Plateau, one of Australia's longest settled districts at over 1300-400 metres above sea level is still a prime stop over camp to investigate, to explore the surrounding natural and man-made attractions particularly with the deep rooted local knowledge of many generations of families with their True Blue yarns, journals, photographs and artefacts. Be proud and share them with a smile.

Turbine components for the southern areas of the White Rock Wind Farm have been making their way along the Ben Lomond Rd over recent weeks.

The alternative access route covers 13km on Ben Lomond Road, then on Maybole Road for a further 19 km before turning into Kelleys Road.

It crosses three Local Government Areas, Glen Innes Severn, Inverell and Armidale.

Residents have reported that there have only been minor delays, with deliveries being timed to avoid peak travel times and school bus schedules.

Primary Pride Day

Wednesday 28th June saw Primary students at Guyra Central School participate in a Pride Day. Students started the day with some gardening and tidying of the school grounds. Although the weather wasn't favourable the students rugged up and were more than happy to participate.

The Primary students then participated in the SRC elections to determine the representatives for Semester 2.

Following this, students in Stage 2 organised a Sausage Sizzle and Disco fundraiser for their annual Thalgarrah excursion. A great day was enjoyed by all students and staff.

Students who have been successful in being elected onto the SRC will be recognised in a special Leadership Induction Ceremony to be held on Wednesday 26th July at 12 noon in the Bill Wicks Gymnasium. Family and friends are invited to attend this event.

Gazette Footy Tipping

Ten was the popular score for the Celebrities this week and as expected Tegan has smashed the 200 points barrier. Again no prizes or champers, but a fantastic effort nonetheless. Josh and Beth are following behind in second and third place.

Mailman has joined The Ref at the top of the Locals Leaderboard on 170, so peace and happiness is maintained for now.

However, PHJ, Young Darcey and the Men's Shed (who fought their way through the sawdust) are just two points behind on 168. Following closely is John on 162, with Hazel and Elva on 160. Elva had a great round and jumped a few places on the Leaderboard. Eel-be-Right, who started well towards the top has settled into 3rd last place and shows no sign of leaving that spot.

Club Fours decided

No bowls played Saturday due to the weather, but it was a different matter Sunday July 16th.

With the weather kind the Final of the Club Fours was played.

Dan Kennedy, Col Stanley, Greg Mitchell and Graham Starr played John McIllwain, David Wilcox, Roger Cox and John Hamel. Dan and his team jumped to the lead early with John and his team playing catch up. The score continued to extend despite John and his team best efforts. Although the score says a different story the game was hard fought to the end, it was a well-played Final. Congratulations to both teams for getting to the Final, however there can be only one victor and that was the team of Dan Kennedy, Col Stanley, Greg Mitchell and Graham Starr with a score 24 shots to 10 shots over 20 ends. Congratulations to Dan and his team being Club Fours Champions for 2017 season.

Club Championships for Saturday July 22nd. Start: 12.00pm.

Starter and Umpire: Dan Kennedy. Major/Minor Three Bowl Pairs. Dan Kennedy and Graham Starr to play Robert Moore and Cameron Peardon.

Club Championships set down for Saturday July 29th. The First round of the Club Triples. Teams will be listed for the Saturday games in next week's report.

Sunday July 30th. Robert Moore, Boyd Stanley and David Lyes to play Barry Presnell, Chris Kliendienst and Cameron Peardon. This will complete the First Round.

All nominated teams in the Club Triples are to play when set down, failure to do so will result in a forfeit to the offending team.

As reported last week the cost of travel to Pennant players is $170.00 per player.

Sara swims her way to Nationals

On the 16th July Sara Brazier travelled to Kurri Kurri where she competed in the Australian Invitational Youth Games.

Sara was among 53 swimmers with disabilities who competed at Kurri Kurri Aquatic and Fitness Centre in an event that was also a Special Olympics sanctioned swim meet.

She swam well taking 1st in 50m Backstroke, 2nd 50m Freestyle and 100m Backstroke, 3rd in Relay and 50m Breaststroke and 5th in 100m Freestyle.

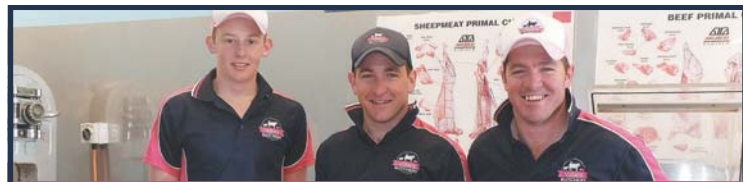

Sara has also been selected to represent team

NSW in swimming at the 2018 Special Olympics Australia National Games. The Games are pinnacle of competition in Special Olympic Australia, only come around every four years and this time they will be held in Adelaide from 16-20th April 2018.

This is her chance to wear the New South Wales uniform with pride, be a part of a great team, test herself against athletes from other states, win medals and be in the mix for selection for world games. Team NSW will be taking a total of 277 athletes.
