Thumbs up for TroutFest

TroutFest 2017 has been hailed a success by the organising committee. Starting on Friday with the Kids Fishing Clinic through to the presentations on Sunday night, there was something for everyone to enjoy.

Organiser Lynne Chapman said that the Art Exhibition on Friday night was an outstanding success, and there was good support for all the events.

“We had a bigger than expected crowd at the Art Expo opening, which was really pleasing and even though the weather on Saturday was cool and misty people still came to enjoy the many market stalls,” Lynne said. “There was also a steady stream of visitors who took the opportunity to visit the two open gardens and the museums over the weekend.”

“We apologise to the main Street businesses that had to put up with the inconvenience of the street being closed, however the cooler weather meant that hot food and drinks were good sellers and coats and hats were also in demand – we hope you had increased business as a result.”

“The aim of the Festival is to showcase Guyra as a Destination, for fishing, for our fabulous produce and for our attractions and I think we have succeeded.”

“Special mention to the Hastings Fishing Club (all 24 of them) in their yellow shirts who ate, drank and shopped their way around Guyra for up to four days.”

Accident on Ben Lomond range

Police are investigating a two-vehicle crash 20km south of Glen Innes on Monday.

Emergency services were called to Ben Lomond Range on the New England Highway, 5km south of Glencoe, about 12.15pm on Monday 2 October 2017, following reports a Holden Vectra and Mazda CX9 had collided.

A 35-year-old woman, who was the driver of Holden Vectra, was treated by NSW Ambulance paramedics before being airlifted to John Hunter Hospital in a critical condition with head injuries.

Her passenger, a 12-year-old girl, was also treated at the scene for a broken collarbone, before being taken to Armidale Hospital.

The driver of the Mazda CX9, a 39-year-old man and his passenger, a 43-year-old woman, were assessed by paramedics for non-life threatening injuries. The woman was taken to John Hunter Hospital with a fractured sternum and the man was treated for a foot injury.

Four boys, aged six, 10, 13, 15, were treated at the scene before being taken to Armidale Hospital for a range of minor injuries, with the 13-year-old boy receiving a fractured pelvis.

Officers attached New England Local Area Command established a crime scene and commenced an investigation.

Police are appealing for anyone with information to come forward and speak to police.

Police are urging anyone with information in relation to this incident to call Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or use the Crime Stoppers online reporting page: <https://nsw.crimestoppers.com.au/>

Murray defeats Tiley for Mayor

Simon Murray will lead Armidale Regional Council for two years, after being elected Mayor at Council's first meeting since the September 9th poll.

Councillor Murray only confirmed his nomination shortly before the meeting which was held at the Armidale council chambers last Wednesday. He beat former administrator Ian Tiley 7-4 in a closed ballot, after a motion for an open ballot was defeated.

There was a three way tussle for the position of Deputy Mayor with Peter Bailey and Margaret O'Connor beaten for the job after a last minute nomination by Dorothy Robinson.

Cr Simon Murray brings with him three years experience as a Councillor of the former Guyra Shire Council and a determination to represent all residents of the Armidale Regional Council local government area. Cr Dorothy Robinson has served the community as a Councillor on the former Armidale Dumaresq Council and is keen to encourage sustainable and healthy growth for the region.

"I am grateful for the opportunity to represent the community as Mayor of Armidale Regional Council," Cr Murray said. "I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr Ian Tiley for his hard work and commitment during his term as Administrator during the challenging process of amalgamation.

Armidale Regional Council's new Mayor & Deputy Mayor
Simon Murray and Dorothy Robinson

"I will work together with my fellow Councillors and Council staff to ensure our whole community has a voice in determining the future of our region."

Council confirmed a schedule for the coming year that will see meetings held on the 4th Wednesday of the month and alternate between Guyra and Armidale, with every third meeting to be held at the Guyra council chambers.

Meeting times were debated, with Armidale/Dumaresq having previously held theirs at 6pm, while Guyra had opted for morning meetings. After some discussion Councillors agreed to a compromise that will see meetings scheduled at 2pm.

Cr Murray confirmed his commitment to Tingha by moving that the scheduled December meeting take place in the town, following a practice of the former Guyra Shire. There were some objections to this move, however it was felt that this may be a good opportunity to gauge the true feeling of the Tingha community.

Council also unanimously endorsed an earlier decision by the administrator that the 2017/18 fees payable to councillors be set at the maximum of $19,310 and also that the fees payable to the Mayor be set at the maximum of $42,120.

Support needed for Super Spuds

A reminder that there will be a meeting this Wednesday October 4, in an effort to see the Guyra Super Spuds back on the paddock in 2018.

A group of supporters want to see a 'back to basics' approach to the game with local blokes playing for their home-town with the support of the community.

With no local team, Guyra players have been forced to look elsewhere. Several were part of the Bundarra Bears team who took out this year's Group 4 second division grand final while others, including the League Tag players, played for Armidale and other nearby towns.

An informal meeting will be held at the Guyra Hotel (Bottom Pub) on October 4th, starting at 6.30pm to gauge interest from supporters and players.

They hope this will be a fresh start for the Spuds, but need a good roll up to see it come to fruition.

If there is sufficient interest at the meeting on October 4th, they will then call a formal meeting in the hope of forming a committee and approach Group 19 and Group 4 with the view to competing in second division next year

Please attend if you are a potential player, committee member, sponsor or supporter.

Move to quarterly water meter read

Guyra residents will soon move to a quarterly water meter read to bring the town in line with NSW Government Best Practice Guidelines.

Currently customers in Guyra receive a half yearly water rates notice. The change to the water meter read will take effect from November 2017 and not impact on the total amount paid for water throughout the year.

Armidale Regional Council's Group Leader Service Delivery Mark Piorkowski said smaller, more frequent payments, similar to other major utility providers would allow for better household budgeting.

"With more regular information made available on water consumption patterns customers are able to better monitor and reduce their water usage," said Mr Piorkowski. "This in-turn has a positive effect on the household budget."

Early detection of water leaks is also a benefit of a quarterly meter read.

"Occasionally faults occur in either internal plumbing or water appliances such as garden irrigation systems or toilets, that are hard to detect," said Mr Piorkowski.

"It usually takes a spike in the meter read for a property owner to be alerted to the issue. Quarterly meter reads lessen the impact of these types of faults and helps save precious drinking water."

Weekly Wool Market Report

Schute Bell Wool

SEPTEMBER 29th - It was a week of consolidation for the wool market with very little change across the board. 10-15 cent rises in selected Merino micron types were offset by 15-25 cent falls in most of the Crossbred types.

The Merino carding indicator at plus 29 cents was the standout performer for the week. A sharp fall in exchange rates led to the Aussie dollar dropping over 2% against the US compared to week's close. With the EMI when looked at in US dollars actually down 30 cents for the week. 36,406 bales were sold nationally with a passed in rate of 8.2%

Major buyers included Tianyu, Seatech and Fox & Lillie. Data from AWEX show's half of the Merino Fleece on offer this week had a mid break percentage of 50 or greater. The discounts for these types are widening with the heavier vegetable matter types also remaining under pressure.

The forward market is also showing signs of consolidating with discounts to the current physical narrowing. Contracts for the 19 and 21 micron indicators have been changing hands at only 20 cents under the current physical until the end of the calendar year.

Guyra - where you could've made a small fortune over the last 3 years

By Simon Pressley

While Sydney and Melbourne boomed over the last three years, one particular lesser-known location was also producing strong price growth plus the added bonus of being much kinder on the household budget than Sydney or Melbourne.

If instead of being transfixed on Australia's two most expensive cities, for one-third of the cost of a typical Sydney or Melbourne house, those same onlookers could have purchased a property three years ago that achieved price growth which exceeded most capital cities and had a better cash flow.

According to official data from CoreLogic, Guyra in New South Wales achieved comparable rates of growth to Sydney's blue-chip suburbs. Today's median house price in the Northern Table-lands township is an incredibly low $280,000 after increasing by a whopping 50 per cent over the three years ending May 2017.

Relative to the rest of Australia, the money required to cover a deposit and acquisition costs to get in to the Guyra market is nominal, the annual holding costs barely touch the household budget, and the capital growth already achieved was superior to 95 per cent of Australia.

One of the biggest myths in real estate is that capital cities are the best investments. It always fascinates me how so many investors are oblivious to the opportunities throughout regional Australia where, generally speaking, it costs much less to enter the market, annual holding costs are lower, and potential for price growth can be superior to many high-profile cities.

The average annual change in median house price in Guyra since the turn of the century remains superior to all capital cities.

Most households can comfortably save $100 per week so an annual holding cost of approximately $5,000 per year for a property is well within an investor's budget. But, those who can afford more, I question the merits of sinking more than $10,000 per year in to one property as opposed to spreading their investment capital over a couple of assets in completely different markets for a similar combined investment.

The learnings from this historical evidence is not to jump in and buy in locations that performed strongly over the last three years but to appreciate the value in ignoring wives tales and removing the blinkers. Australia is littered with investment opportunities in affordable communities (big and small). The star performers in the next three years probably won't be the same stars of the last three years however, just like Guyra, you're unlikely to discover these gems through following the herd!

Ray White Rural and Live-stock had their biggest ever attendance for the annual rural muster, held recently in Coogee.

Major winners for the year included Ray White Emms Mooney in the Central West of NSW as top agency, Dee

Sam Sewell, winner of the Charlie Maher Memorial Award

The Great Australia

The kookaburras laugh loudly and with joy sitting in the gum tree as the morning sun rises over the horizon, awaiting the warm day ahead. (The bushmans alarm clock) as they call it.

The morning dew drips from fences and spider webs hanging from reed to reed along the lagoon. Dogs in the distance bark and roosters crow as the new day begins. The echoing of cows down in the paddocks as they graze on the newly fresh grass.

Early morning risers on their early morning jog and the employers and employees of Australia heading off to make the great Australian dollar, either starting their car or even tractor's, getting ready to head out as the day begins.

While others in certain parts of the country dread another scorching dusty day in the out back, yet still thankful to live in such a hot vast yet beautiful land of plenty.

Makes the hard working and dry cracked hands worth while, as they wipe the dust from their eyes with a cold beer in hand to watch the sun go down as another day finished and proud of the accomplishments achieved today, for tomorrow awaits another day of "hard yakka".

The morning scent of fresh cool air and vegetation fills your lungs as you step outside, as the warm sunlight touches your skin, you embrace the day with a smile and say "how lucky am I to be alive" Good morning Australia.

Bea makes her mark in rugby

Bea Roberts is currently dividing her time between her employment at Guyra preschool and competing in the inaugural Aon National Sevens University Series 2017.

Chief Executive Officer Peter Dennis said that Armidale Regional Council is pleased to be a major sponsor of the University of New England Women's Sevens Team.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to promote the Armidale region and support regionally based athletes to be a part of a national competition," Mr Dennis said.

"It is even more exciting to know that a valued member of our team at Council is also part of the UNE Lions team playing in the national rugby competition!"

The UNE Lions were selected as one of eight teams participating in the Series which is the first in Australia for women's rugby. UNE is the only team from regional Australia to be included.

Ms Roberts said that she has loved the opportunity to be on the team and to be a part of the national competition.

"Women's rugby is growing

"I am stoked to be a part of the UNE Lions and have thoroughly enjoyed every step of the series - from training hard, to putting that training in to practice on the field."

Ms Roberts is also grateful to the team's coach, Tom Bower.

"He works very hard and gives us all great support so that we can do what we love!"
